Despite a rainy day at Mylan Park, the 2013 Morgantown Showdown saw some great competition from start to finish. A big 'Thank You' goes out to tournament director Chris Girardi as well as to all six of the NCFA Teams that participated. We even had a few cheerleaders make the trip!

Week 8: Columbus State @ Middle Georgia State

Having already beaten OC Tech, it looks like Columbus State will be the only true test standing between Middle Georgia State and its first South Atlantic Conference title, and what would appear to be a shot at the National Title. Middle Georgia State is led by QB Kiontai Button who's tallied 505 passing yards, a 52% completion rate and thrown for three TD passes this season.

The Official Basketball of the NCBBA

The NCBBA is happy to call the Wilson Evolution the “Official Basketball of the NCBBA”. This Wilson Evolution basketball, complete with the official NCBBA logo and commissioner’s signature, will be the required basketball for use during all NCBBA sanctioned games. As members of the league, each NCBBA team will receive four of these Official NCBBA Basketballs free of charge at the beginning of each season.

“During our league development surveys, it was quite obvious that the Wilson Evolution basketball was the ball of choice for our prospective NCBBA teams,” said NCBBA League Commissioner, Sandy Sanderson. “I’m excited that the NCBBA and Wilson have been able to partner together to put this top-of-the-line basketball in the hands of our member teams.”

Four More Teams Join the League

The month of September welcomed four new teams to the NCBBA, including Iowa State, DePaul, Ithaca and Loyola University of Maryland.

As we prepare for the inaugural season, new teams, prospective teams and fans can find everything they need to know about the NCBBA by visiting www.ncbbabasketball.org.
